1. What this covers

This policy explains our use of cookies and similar technologies such as browser local storage on riderscore.co.ke and the RiderScore application.

2. Categories we use

Strictly necessary: authentication, session continuity, workspace selection, security and abuse prevention. These cannot be switched off without breaking the service.

Functional: remembering interface preferences such as the last selected workspace or view.

Analytics and performance: aggregate usage and reliability measurement, where enabled. These are used to improve the product, not to build advertising profiles.

3. What we do not do

We do not use cookies to sell personal data and we do not run third-party advertising networks on our properties.

4. Managing cookies

Most browsers let you view, block or delete cookies and clear local storage. Blocking strictly necessary cookies will prevent sign-in and normal use of the application.

Where a consent banner is presented, non-essential categories are set only after consent is given and can be changed later.

5. Changes and contact

This policy is versioned and dated. Questions: privacy@riderscore.co.ke.
